

Black-tailed Godwit at Monks' Wall NR

Colour-ringed

The colour-ringed Black -tailed Godwit that was seen at Monks' Wall NR

On 05th April 2004 has been identified as a bird, ringed, as a pullus, in Cambridgeshire, May 2002.

This is the first reported sighting of this individual

As a bird of the race Limosa limosa limosa, it is one of the rarest breeding species in the UK with less than 50 pairs! Another nice piece of information gleaned from a
"colour ringing" scheme. (Gadget)
